END OF SEMESTER

As the end of semester draws to a close with only one more week remaining after this, Barph wishes all students who are madly studying that they are able to complete their assignments on time (or with an extension).

NEWSWEEK

In Newsweek of November 23rd the Editors devoted many pages to the KGB and their 'Dirty Tricks Squad'.

editorial

LIFE MANAGEMENT FAREWELL

For the third year students who attended the Life Management Farewell last Friday, it proved to be an enjoyable farewell to their three years at College. A medium crowd joined in the festivities in the Union - good luck in the future from Barph.

UNION COUNCIL

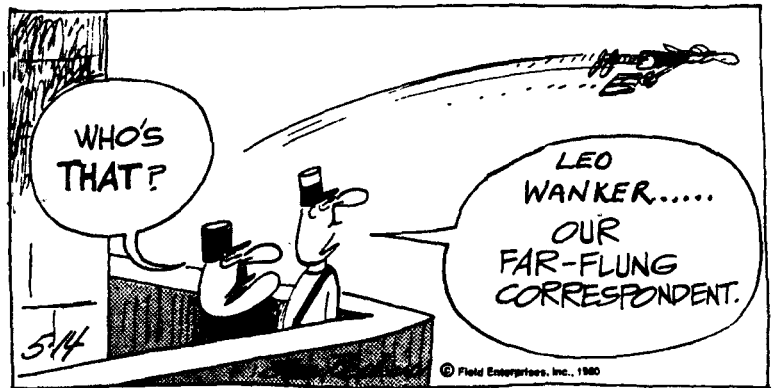

The Union Council met last Saturday to discuss its usual business and to review the budgets of the various clubs and the Union for 1982.

The Union is faced with declining full-time students and as a result of this more emphasis has been placed on providing for external students. However at this stage the full-time students still receive the lions share of the budget cake.

Also coming out of this meeting was the proposal that Barph should be restricted to an average of 16 pages per issue. This means that the editors will have to in future either edit in part or edit in full articles received from students and others to reach this maximum size of 16 pages.

Unfortunately this measure had to be taken to ensure that Barph runs as economically as possible.

Newsweek claims that the KGB is conducting a massive campaign in 'disinformation'. They go on to suggest that the Russian KGB is responsible for all the anti-American feeling throughout the world.

The Americans do not see that their policies are the reason why many people question America's aims and in the way they go about things - instead they prefer to think that the KGB is responsible for providing misleading information about the U.S. to the foreign press.

Simplistic explanations like this may con the American public as to why America's image has suffered over the years but thankfully the majority of people in Australia just don't see it this way.

Letters

Dear Editors,

May I take the pages of your publication to congratulate yourselves on the excellent front covers of your recent issues. As any good newspaper man, Car advertising man etc knows the best way to sell a product is to make it attractive and eye-catching which is exactly what you are doing. One wonders how you can spend so much time on designing these intricate covers and still find time to concentrate on your college work.

The excellence of your covers does not end there, with the entire magazine living up to the standards established by these covers. Well done people and keep up the excellent work.

Rupert Packer.
Media Magnate.

Dear Rupert

Thank you for your praise and at our recent cover designs for Barph. I agree that Barph is an excellent publication - due to the fact that it is basically made up of reader's contributions such as yours.

Unfortunately the Barph team have had trouble since August procuring suitable front covers - this is due in full to the new copyright legislation that was introduced by the Federal Government. Unfortunately it is very difficult to obtain permission to use cartoons from most publications. Without publishers such as Beaumont Books and Penguin Books we would be unable to publish any cartoons at all.

Editors.

Dear Sir

I refer to the publicity and distribution of Tertiary Education Assistance Scheme (TEAS) material in 1982.

In past years, as a way of publicizing the scheme and in order to encourage early applications, TEAS forms were sent to as many potential TEAS applicants as possible. In some years, all HSC candidates received forms and in 1981 applications were sent to all students applying to tertiary institutions through the Universities and College Admissions Centre (UCAC). The response to the individual mailing of forms has been very poor.

As a result, this year all HSC candidates will receive with their results, a card giving information about TEAS and inviting them to apply for benefits. Applications will then be posted to those students who returned that card to this office.

In addition, applications will be posted directly to those students who did not sit for the HSC in 1981 but apply to tertiary institutions in 1982 through UCAC.

The TEAS closing date of 31 March still applies. HSC candidates should request their forms from this Office in January so that they can lodge them as soon as they enrol. Those who lodge applications after 31 March will not receive benefits from 1 January but rather from the date forms are received.

Any student who is currently receiving TEAS benefits will have an application form sent to his address in December. It is important that students apply as soon as their 1981 results are known (in December/January). Delay could result in their applications being caught up with those of first year students enrolling in February and March.

"ROCK EXPO"

All is in readiness for the Gig of the Year - "ROCK EXPO". "ROCK EXPO" will feature a line-up of five local rock bands - Foreign Bodies, Swift Kicks, Mini & The Mozarts, Red Handed and Lo Profile.

The Expo will be staged outdoors on the Union Lawns from 9pm - 3am.

The bands will play from the rear of a semi-trailer in front of West Block.

In the event of inclement weather the gig will be staged indoors.

There is some great local talent in Wagga - the bands are equal to, if not better than any other provincial centre in the country.

E2 believes that the "ROCK EXPO" will be a great promotion for the local bands as well as providing excellent rock music for fans.

It may not reach the heights of Sunbury or Tanlorn but it should be a great show.

Admission is $4 for students and Union members and $5 for guests.

Bar service is available. No B.Y.O.G.

SPORTS YEAR BOOK

The 1981 Sports Year Book should be available towards the end of the week from the usual Barph outlets.

The Year Book has been assembled and edited by communications maestro, Doug Stewart.

It appears to be a good publication - congrats to those involved.

ORIENTATION '82

The final meeting to arrange the 1982 Orientation Week will be held at noon on Thursday November 26 in the Union Auditorium.

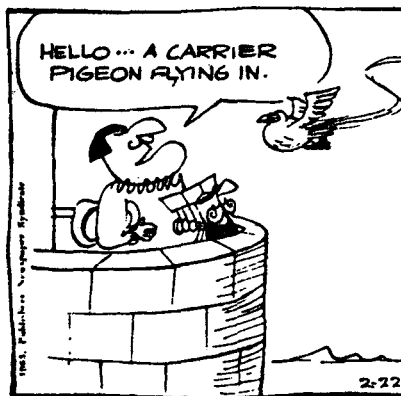

If you are interested in assisting with the Orientation programme then come along to this meeting.

INTRA MURAL CRICKET

The Intra-Mural Cricket Finale is the focal point of this week's sports activities on campus.

The Aggies meet the reigning premiers, Bushpigs for this year's title at 2pm on the Main Oval on Sunday.

The Presitious trophy for Intra-Mural cricket - the Buckley's Shield is certainly gaining in recognition Traditional cricket fans will be delighted to learn that the Bushpigs have made the final despite the efforts of the Packer-inspired Cavaliers.

The Cavaliers will play off for third spot against the Turtles at 10am.

Intramural cricket has been well organised - well done Fozzie - and the draw worked well, too!

ALTERNATIVE HANDBOOK

The Orientation Committee is still seeking articles for the 1982 Alternative Handbook.

Please submit any material on course context, assessment, student services, lecture assessment, etc. to The Editor, C/- Alternative Handbook, C/- Rivcoll Union.

All contributions will be treated in the strictest confidence - but the article must be signed.

RAGE AT ROCK EXPO

Rod.

NOTICES

To all unattending Sports Council Club representatives, thanks for coming!

Thank you to the few people that thought the Sports Council meetings worth making the effort to attend.

If budget cuts are unsatisfactory then blame yourselves for not turning up to argue for future funds.

Lets hope the Sports Council next will put in a bigger effort in meeting attendance and general concern for sport in 1982.

Yours in apathy
Kay Satterthwaite.

P.S. Meeting in Union Office Thursday 12.15pm to elect positions of Sports Council President, Vice President and Secretary. So, all newly appointed sports council representatives, attend this and be initiated.

FOR SALE:

A once in a lifetime offer, not to be missed. Thirteen bedroom weatherboard house. Contains four showers, three toilets, two kitchens, spacious lounge-dining area and wall to wall carpet. Outside laundry. Servants and gardeners at no extra cost. Close to schools, shops and public transport. For any further details please phone 253175 any time.

RECONSTRUCTION NATHAN COBB DRIVE AND KUNAMA WAY JUNCTION

A tender has been let for the above works to commence on 23 November, 1981.

A by-pass will be installed to temporarily link Nathan Cobb Drive (in front of maintenance workshop) to Kunama Way to enable construction to proceed uninhibited by traffic. This means that vehicles proceeding to the East Hall carpark, Sutherland Building etc. will need to do so via Pine Gully Road during the construction period.

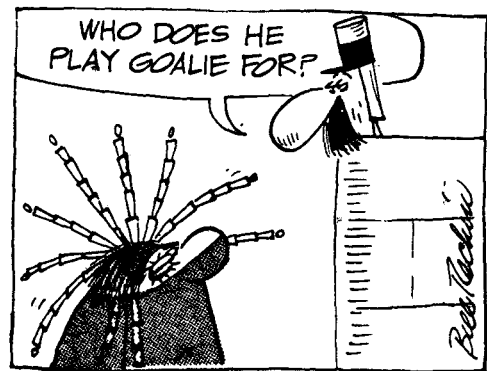

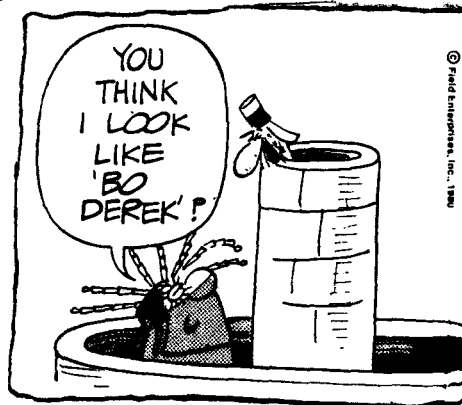

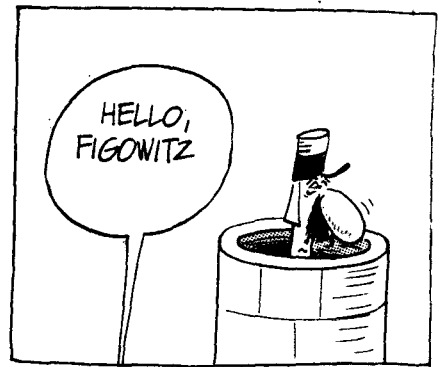

I hope this will cause only minor inconvenience to the regular users of facilities in that area.

Notices...

The film club Executive would like to thank all those who supported our films during the '81 season. Thanks also to those who willingly rendered assistance during the year, their help was invaluable.

A MEETING OF THE FILM CLUB TO SELECT NEXT YEARS FILMS WILL BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY 25TH AT 4.30PM IN THE UNION OFFICE. ANY SUGGESTIONS FROM STUDENTS WELCOME.

Nigel.

WANTED: 2 people to share house central location over holidays. Contact 30 Macleay Street or Pip Spilsbury via pigeon holes.

OUTDOORS CLUB

All members please attend our meeting next Thursday 1.00pm in the Union to discuss next years activities and orientation week so please attend - this is our last meeting for the year.

See ya there

Cathy Stanley

On Saturday 7 November, 1981, the College entered two Murray Grey steers in the Hoof and Carcass Competition conducted by the Holbrook.P.A. & H. Society, and was successful in winning the award for the Grand Champion Steer on the hoof. This success attracted the award of the A.M. Hulme Perpetual Trophy which recognises the event as one of the most prestigious steer competitions in southern New South Wales.

The success is important to the College and even more so when it is known that the steers were selected, prepared and presented by two students, Margaret Whittaker and Jenny White. Congratulations girls, you bring great credit upon yourselves and the College.

Incidentally, Margaret and Jenny, together with Sue Johnson and Carol Smith, have put a lot of time into preparing and showing College stock this year and all deserve congratulations for their interest in voluntarily promoting this aspect of the College's farm operation.

In this column the lives of the cohabitants at A Block South shall be brought to life, so that the rest of RCAE shall see just what goes on in a zoo.

- * Is it true that Stephanie is secretly cultivating a Beard in her room?
- * Who keeps empty packets of condoms next to his private phone?
- * It seems that Josephine has dropped art and taken up golf.
- * Can we be sure that Maxine is only giving Darren dinner?
- * What does Celene get up to when she gets Gary and his dog into her room?
- * Would the Big E really rather sleep in a bean bag than a bed, and did S O'R show him the merits of that bean bag?
- * Is Dave becoming freindly with Donald, simply because he lives opposite Faye?
- * It's common knowledge that Filthy has the hots for Ingrid.
- * And what about Kate's increasing attachment to Phallic symbols.
- * Is it true that the Bushpigs are starring in a porno film, titled ROCKY III?
- * Who was Michelle referring to in her statement "You can jump on me anytime" and who arrived in pyjamas, quicksilvers and billabongs to do the job?
- * After several B & S's, Gini has been seen with a strange Mark on her.
- * Who is the mysterious "S" that thanked our dear Slim for a terrific night and can they do it again soon? Duncan would love her to cum again!
- * What attraction does Ralph's bicycle hold for him - he's always on it.
- * The general story is that a Dick has frequently been coming in and out of Maria's room

A PARABLE - "The Bushman" by Excelsieus
Twiddle-Pop

Again and again the boots hit dust on the old dirt track. Towering blue gums shaded his way and a cool breeze made him feel young again. Pausing to chew on a grasshopper he remembered days gone by when he had managed this station. It was the pride of the district and he was looked on as a man among men.

Times had changed, he had no legs now and someone had soldered a saucepan to his head. Wanting badly to go to the toilet he rolled into the grass and opened his bowels wide...

As a shroud on a corpse, the mist lifted to reveal the day. White lines merged into one and the huge truck screamed on. Terrys mind groaned; twenty hours driving his rig to pay off that damned mortgage. He had almost passed cracking point. Ahead loomed the Y turn; one way to Bellyrool, the other to.....

Thick steamy effulent streamed between his leg stumps and into the daisies.. Sid thought momentarily of rolling over and sliding amongst the lust grass to cleanse his bum hole, but slumped to sleep instead...

The caffeine took its toll. Terrys mind was not his own. Onto the dirt track the truck serged, leaving the Bellyroll turn behind.

Ever since his wife had died of leprosy his life had been unbearable. Then his two children were savagely raped by a drug crazed albino nun with one arm. Fate oh cruel fate! His Bank Manager threatened to have him jailed for not paying his loan. Terry hardly noticed the tiny figure in the distance as his hands slipped slowly.....

Old Sid awoke with a strange sensation. He had felt the spirit of the Lord enter his body as he had done poo's before and now he proclaimed to the world in foreign tongues.

Looking to his stumps he saw the feet. Good God! He lept to his new legs raving like a bloody lunatic and jumped onto the road.....

Suddenly Terry saw the funny old man without pants and hsit on his legs. It was too late! Brakes siezed rim and the huge truck slid.....

"Elleluia, praise the Lord"! yelled old Sid; he turned Ahhhhhh.....

The body was sucked into the spinning wheels and torn piece by piece. Blood and bone mixed together as the metal monster consumed its prey.....

Terry screamed again as the truck jumped a bank. Everything spun and he blacked out.

Painfully he strained a look out of the mangled cabin. The quiet was intense, and his blood stained shirt glistened in the morning sun. Slowly he unbuckled himself and reached for the door. Inch by inch it fell away and Terry slumped to the ground and pulled away....

The hot air on his head made him turn and the huge jaws of the dingo closed on Terrys bankrupt head.....

WHAT'S THE POINT OF GOING ON?

"WHAT'S THE POINT OF GOING ON"?

A question often asked by the homo sapien, regardless of any age. Who expects an answer? Does despair fill the minds of Earth's "intelligent" species?

Amateur philosophers, listen and feel reassured:- you may well ask yourselves of any point in "going on".

Well there's lots of points to go on.

You can go on first impressions, or looks. But people, ignore this, that is obvious. Ron is President - and what a lovely face.

So you can turn to economic considerations. Go on the amount of ready dollars floating in your pockets - your reputation - your ancestry - your natural beauty - your robust torso, her slim figure.....

My girlfriend and I devise the most thrilling positions, John. Last night, I asked her to kneel like a horse HEY MAN upside-down sex after ten schooners really opens your eyes.

But I digress. You can also go on a ride on the Rollercoaster, or go on the water and experience the open seas..

Go on a one-way-trip-to-Heaven; the land of the happy Christian Blue-rinse set. God's personal R.S.L. Club, just pass Peter at the door and the first drink's on the Lord.

A world of possibilities indeed.

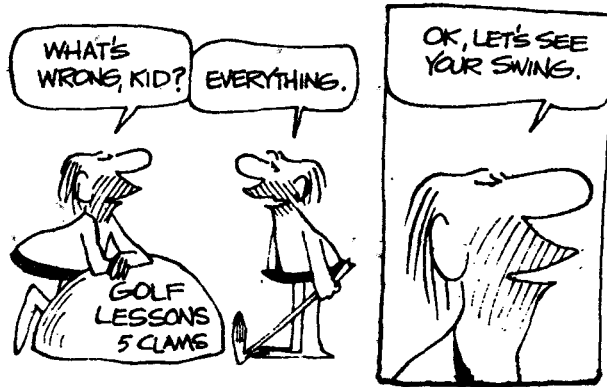

With Love and Faith

turtles

Last Friday night saw the Turtles hold their Annual General Meeting in the Beer Garden of the Tolland Hotel. Despite poor attendance the meeting proved successful with the 1982 committee being elected, and a fair amount of piss being consumed.

The committee consists of:

- President: ex golden boobs Laurie Robertson
- Vice President: animal extraordinaire, Stephen Deadman
- Secretary: twilight Dave Chaves
- Treasurer: "Show us your gash" Wendy Hay
- WWHA Reps: Olive McWhinney and Harold Crisp.

Other business conducted included the proposal of conducting a yearly challenge match against the Albury Wombats. It was envisaged this be an evening match (twilight) and a trophy be awarded called the Dave Chaves Memorial Trophy.

Being true multitasking sportsmen the turtles have decided to mount an excursion to Sydney for the first test between Aust. and the West Indies Jan 2-7. Since the Culypto Kings of cricket will be playing it was decided that Rum would be the go on the hill. Real Calypso style cricket. All those interested please contact the Whale, the ethnic or the animal

Finally a general invitation is extended to all turtles (and others interested) to attend the joint birthday party for Wal and Sprio, this Friday night at the Rock Expo to be held on the Union lawns. Until next we meet yours in turtling

Animal and Ethnic turtles.

Cricket

The last day of cricket before the finals really sorted out the men from the boys with the Bushpigs having a win over Buckley's Chance and the Aggies defeating the Cavaliers.

Greg Bradley was undoubtedly the trump for the Bushpigs with a dashing 42 with the bat and 4/16 of five overs of off-spin.

The Aggies cemented their place in the final against the Bushpigs with a consistent team effort against the Cavaliers.

The Buckley's Shield is really beginning to prosper and gain recognition as was seen with Goliath pulling out of Wagga's O'Farrell Cup side to take his place in the Aggies XI on Sunday.

P.S. Cavaliers or Turtles dont forget to pick up kit from Co-op before Friday.

Next weeks finals
