UBS Kick-off Camp

Warning: Uni Bible Study does not take responsibility for any scrapes, cuts or bruises that may occur while attending events... er mud fights.

Hi. My name is Delle and I'm reporting on the Uni Bible Study Kick-off camp! On Friday March 20th CSU and LaTrobe (and UNSW) students went to a farm. We were welcomed by our host family, with smiling faces and a huge meal of nachos and salad. Chris talked to us about the history of AFES (Australian Fellowship of Evangelical Students), their aims and the unique opportunities we have to be involved in a Uni Bible Study group while we're still students! Thanks Chris.

At about 10:30 that evening, we set off on what we thought would be a nice evening stroll, which turned out to be a climb straight up the side of the small mountain. We all made it safely back home, with maybe a few bruises. The early hours of the morning were spent enjoying a cup of tea and some music before heading off to bed.

Saturday morning was a fairly early start....for some. The boys who slept out in the shed were undoubtedly woken by the allegedly killer farm dog, while the girls slept right through til breakfast on the lounge room floor. After our "waking up routine," we settled down to hear from Jimbo about how we can be truly blessed. The talks were about Psalms 1 and 2- how true blessing comes from Jesus, when we "take refuge in Him." After lunch with the formalities over, we continued the fun with an A-Z photo race, a mud fight and another trek up the hill.

Camp was great, I learnt a lot and made some great new friends. Don't miss out next year!

Next Meeting for the Claytons Club will be 12th May @ 10.30am @
Hudson's Coffee Shop in Olive Street.
Hope to see you there.

Social justice in Australian water governance institutions: The case of the Lowbidgee

Anna Lukasiewicz

PhD student, CSU

I am attempting to trace where social justice appears in the National Water Initiative (and subsequent national policies); how these principles are translated into state-level policies; and how they filter down to the decisions made on the ground. One of my case studies is the Lowbidgee (Lower Murrumbidgee River, south-western NSW) where I am constructing an institutional map to demonstrate how well-meaning policies made at the top can have vastly unintended outcomes once they are filtered through different layers of national, inter-state and state bureaucracies.

Miss CSU

Dear Students,

The time is approaching when you dear students can forget the demands of a degree and enjoy Easter. It bewilders me when I reflect on the nature of holidays in our society. With the progression and prosperity of the modern culture, we have turned anything spiritual into a marketing strategy. The birth of Christ is predominantly Santa Claus's Christmas, St Valentine's Feast day is a day for kisses, St Patrick's day is an excuse to wear green and drink Guinness, the death and Resurrection of Christ involves exchanging Chocolate eggs, and All Souls Day has been modernize to a sinister Halloween! Thank heavens above for Christian holidays, or we'd be reduced to celebrating Labour Day.

World and CSU News: Alas and alack!! I was simply stunned when I read that the global warming theory of CO2 melting the icecaps and causing mass flooding has been denounced...

"It is not possible to stop climate change, a natural phenomenon that has affected humanity through the ages.... In particular, it is not established that it is possible to significantly alter global climate through cuts in human greenhouse gas emissions." Dec 07, Open Letter to the Secretary-General of the United Nations. Are you shocked? This letter was signed by the President of the World Federation of Scientists, President of the WMO Commission for Climatology, Director of Research in the Royal Dutch Meteorological Service, Director of the French (CNRS) Laboratory of Climatology, Director of the Australian National Climate Centre, Director of the Institute of Environmental Science and 97 others around the world. Last year, 31,000 American Scientists said that there was 'no convincing scientific evidence that human release of carbon dioxide, methane, or other greenhouse gases is causing or will, in the foreseeable future, cause catastrophic heating of the Earth's atmosphere and disruption of the Earth's climate...' NASA states that largest increase in temperature in the past century was less than 1 degree. The global temperatures have been decreasing since 1998. The major organisations have stopped claiming that a global warming crisis is going to happen due to a complete lack of data. Is our society so stubborn that it won't accept this? Or is it that there is so much money to be made in this issue that the truth remains a secret?

Have You Heard those exasperating yet witty voice mails?

"Hello. I'm home right now but can't find my mobile. Please leave a message and I will call you as soon as I find it." "Hello, this is John. I'm not home, but I can take a message. Hang on a second while I get a pencil." (background noise - open a drawer and shuffle stuff around.) "OK, what would you like me to tell me?" "Hi, this is Fred. I was studying, but then I needed a drink, so I stepped outside to buy a beer, but then the door locked behind me. So, while I'm outside, shivering in my underwear, you can leave a message. When the landlord lets me back in, I'll get back to you."

Q: "Isn't the Queen just a figurehead for Australia? Can she make laws?" Tommy

An: "The Queen's Royal title in Australia is Elizabeth the Second, by the Grace of God Queen of Australia and Her other Realms and Territories, Head of the Commonwealth. She acts entirely on the advice of Australian Government Ministers who are responsible to Parliament."

"People who throw kisses are hopelessly lazy." - Bob Hope

I am presently preparing to visit the seaside and continue writing my novel. Do send me an email if you've something to comment on. Enjoy your holidays, my dears, see you all again soon!

Yours Sincerely,

Miss CSU
